Subject: Retraction: MICROBIO 657 "other" DS major elective
Date: Monday, November 18, 2024 2:55:00 PM

Hello everyone,

As you may have seen, I recently announced in our Spring enrollment information newsletter that MICROBIO 657 was approved by faculty to count as an 'other' Data Science major elective. Since then, we have discovered that this course is open only to graduate students. Therefore, our faculty have voted to retract their prior inclusion of the course towards the major.

MICROBIO 657 will no longer be approved to count towards the Data Science major's 'other' elective category.

We sincerely apologize for the inconvenience. Any student who was planning to take MICROBIO 657 next spring and count it towards their DS major requirements is encouraged to contact their advisor (or email dsmajor@stat.wisc.edu) to discuss alternative options.

Best,
Dana
