Subject: NEW Data Science Ethics Course!! PHILOS 244
Date: Friday, April 25, 2025 10:59:00 AM

Happy Friday, Data Science Certificates!

I'm writing with an exciting update. PHILOS 244 Introductory Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Data Ethics has been APPROVED as a Data Science Ethics class in the Data Science certificate, effective Summer 2025 term.

PHILOS 244 is being taught online over the summer (currently 195 open seats!) and is also offered fall 2025.

Important notes:

- Due to campus curricular timelines, PHILOS 244 will not be listed in Guide or DARS until Fall 2026.
 - If you enroll in the class any time between now and then (Summer 25, Fall 25, Spring 26, or Summer 26), it will not automatically appear on your DARS report. This is normal. Advisors will submit a DARS exception to add the class to your record after the respective term's course drop deadlines.
- If you enroll in PHILOS 244 and are on the LIS 461 wait list – you must remove yourself from LIS 461 wait list so the Information Science department has a clear understanding of course demand.

Questions? Concerns? Email dscert@stat.wisc.edu with your 10-digit campus ID and we are happy to help you out!

Best,
